A training opportunity featuring Jonathan Martinis

Join us to learn how supported decision-making can be used with friends, family members, and professionals to help individuals experiencing disability make their own decisions. Everybody has the right to make choices!

Attorney Jonathan Martinis represented Jenny Hatch, who won back her right to make her own decisions using supported decision-making.

For interpretation needs, please provide three business days' notice: (503) 786-6082.
